Collaboration/Teamwork Badge Framework

DRAFT

21st Century College and Career Ready Badges

Preparation for the May 27, 2015 meeting of Mozilla Badges Advisory Group
21st Century Competency: Collaboration / Teamwork

Skills used to demonstrate this competency (macro-badge) include:

• Demonstrates ability to work with diverse teams.
• Utilizes collaboration tools and techniques.
• Assumes shared responsibility for group work.
• Exercises flexibility to accomplish a common goal.
• Transforms ideas to meet goals.
• Uses appropriate conflict resolution strategies.
• Interacts in a professional and respectful manner with colleagues.
Description— Who earns the badge?

Badge is awarded to learners who demonstrate the following:

- Ability to work effectively and respectfully with diverse teams.
- Flexibility and willingness to be helpful in making necessary compromises to accomplish a common goal.
- Shared responsibility for collaborative work.
- Value for the individual contributions made by each team member.
Knowledge and Concepts

- Utilizes collaboration tools (ie: Basecamp) to coordinate group projects.
- Applies conflict resolutions techniques.
- Uses active listening and problem-solving.
- Shares expertise and experiences.
- Evaluates ideas, suggestions, feedback.
- Reflects and asks open-ended questions.
Evidence

- Journal entries of personal self-reflections during group project
- Notes of observations by peers or mentors
- Peer-to-peer recommendations by group members
- Writings, drawings, images, videos, and/or presentations to demonstrate a range of ways ideas are shared and received in group processes and projects.
- Documents that demonstrate collaboration and design authoring tools (white boards, google docs, spreadsheets, etc.)
- Examples of online Communities of Practice and other ways for project interaction and learning (discussion boards, wikis, blogs, websites, etc.)